NAACP Seeks Integration In St. Helena

Old Suit May Be
First Segregation
Test In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, June 3 (AP)—Attorney Gen. Fred LeBlanc said today the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People wants to speed action in a 1953 suit seeking integration of white and Negro pupils in St. Helena Parish schools.

LeBlanc said A. P. Tureaud, New Orleans attorney for the NAACP, wrote him saying "now that the Supreme Court decision has been rendered, I would appreciate if you file responsive pleadings in this case and thereby avoid further delay."

The attorney general said he would meet early next week with district attorney Duncan Kemp and school Supt. J. L. Meadows to discuss the case.

Federal District Judge J. Skelly Wright had given the school board extra time to file a reply to the suit, pending the enforcement decree on the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling last year that public school segregation was unconstitutional.

The decree was handed down Monday and placed enforcement of the ruling in the hands of the local federal courts.

The original suit filed in September, 1953, sought integration of the parish schools because of inadequate facilities.

Tureaud was unavailable for comment. His office in New Orleans said he was out of town.

NAACP local officials meet tomorrow in Atlanta to make further plans for their fight for school integration in the light of the high court ruling.

Laborite Leader
Resigns In Favor Of 'Younger Men'

LONDON, June 3 (AP)—Hugh Dalton, 61, resigned tonight from the Labor party's high command and urged that his elderly colleagues—with the exception of leader Clement Attlee—step down also to make way for younger men.

A more youthful executive group is the Labor party's only hope for the future, said Dalton, one of the chief theorists of British socialism and former chancellor of the exchequer.

He accepted Attlee on the ground the 72-year-old former Prime Minister is the only man able to reconcile warring factions of the

A step toward creation of a common European market, with progressive lowering of the obstacles now blocking exchanges between member states.

Increased exchange of goods and freedom of movement of persons between states.

The study of a new European network of canals, highways, and electricity lines and better coordination of air transport.

Methods to pool sources of power such as electricity and gas.

Creation of a pool to further the development of nuclear energy for peaceful uses.

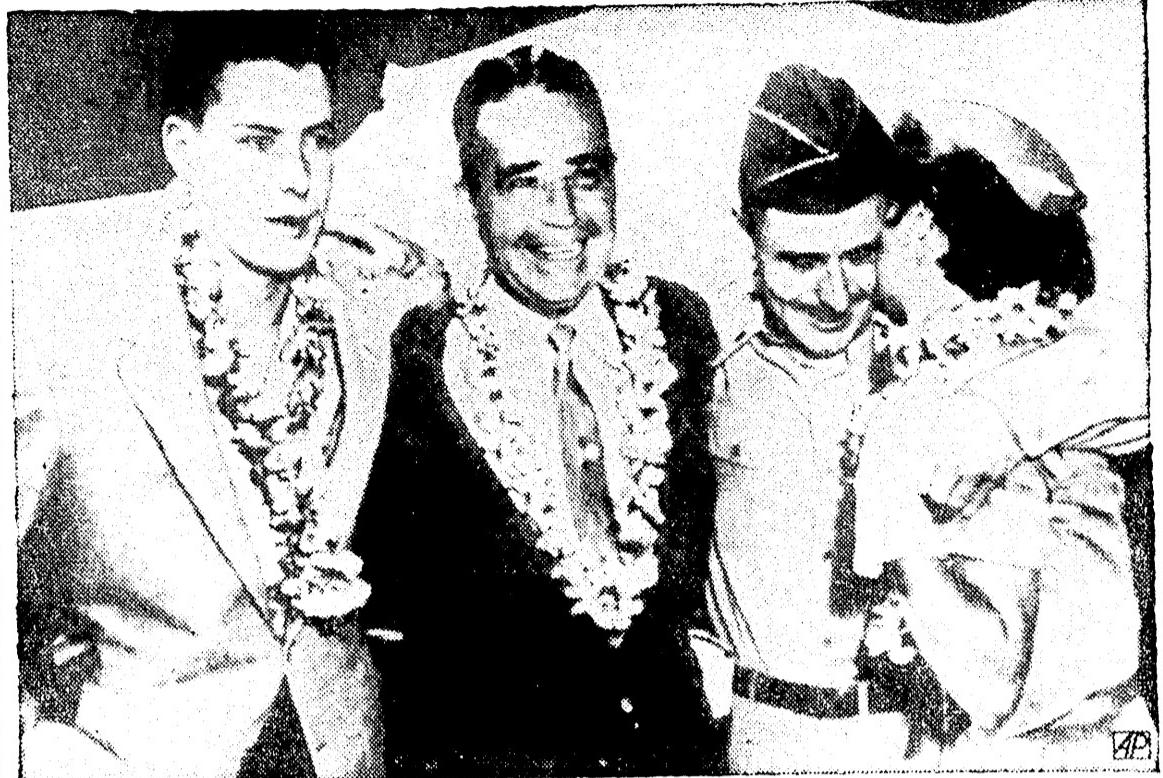

Creation of a new European investment fund for spurting industrial and agricultural development.

Split Widens Excommunication Of Peron By Pope Is Reported Near

VATICAN CITY, June 3 (AP)—Argentina's President Juan D. Peron, a Roman Catholic once decorated by Pope Pius XII, is only a very short step from excommunication if not already so punished by the church, a Vatican authority said today.

"We cannot say yet whether he has fallen into the state of excommunication, nor can we deny it," a monsignor consultant of the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office said in comment on a church-state feud flaring for seven months in Argentina.

"But certainly he is in grave sin, and with him all the legislators of the Peronista-dominated Congress who have adopted the law on divorce, eliminated religious education from the schools and incurred in the arrests of priests and Catholic laymen."

"What is certain, if the President has not fallen into the state of excommunication, is that he is a very short step from it."

Excommunication varies in degree. In minor cases it means suspension of the sacraments. Major excommunication calls for absolute expulsion from the church and all its rights and advantages, in the case of great offenders even from social intercourse with other Catholics. Sometimes it may be incurred automatically. At other times the church proclaims it, usually through decree of the Pope or the Pope's representative.

The monsignor consultant asked not to be identified by name.

The fact he spoke willingly at all on so delicate a matter indicates how far relations between Peron and the Vatican have deteriorated since June 1957, Exita Peron, the late wife of the President, was received then in private audience by Pope Pius, who died in October.

The dissenting vote was cast by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (D-N.J.). He reserved the right to lead a fight for Mr. Eisenhower's smaller proposal on the Senate floor.

After defeating a move to set the wage level at $1.25 an hour, the subcommittee deferred action on broadening the coverage of the law.

The $1.25 wage level motion, offered by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Va.) was defeated by a 3-2 vote. Sen. Matthew M. Neely (D-Tenn.) voted with McNamara in support of it.

Voting for the $1 level were Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Neely, McNamara and Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

The bill will be sent immediately to the full Senate Labor committee, Douglas said.

The new wage level would go into effect Jan. 1, 1956. About 8.7 per cent of the workers blanketed under the fair labor standards act, 2.1 million persons, would be affected.

Mr. Goldwater, chairman of the Senate's Select Committee on Small Business, said yesterday he had written to the Soviet embassy in Belgrade.

The invitation was extended at 2 a.m. at the Soviet embassy reception which ended the eight-day visit to Yugoslavia by the Soviet delegation headed by Khrushchev.

As Khrushchev was being escorted out by Marshal Tito, newspapermen buttonholed the Soviet leader. He remarked that journalists were "dangerous people" and that they did not know the Russian people. Kelley stepped in and told Khrushchev, "That's because you keep us out of your country."

"You can come in any time you like. You can come in tomorrow," the Communist leader said as he kept pumping Kelley's hand for several minutes.

Kelley took him up on that statement.

Union Expects Concessions On Ford Contract

Report Progress In Negotiations On Annual Wage

Detroit, June 3 (UP)—Ford Motor Co. and union negotiators headed into what appeared to be a marathon bargaining session Friday night amid union optimism the company will "bend" enough to avert a crippling strike on Monday.

After two short day sessions, both sides scheduled another meeting Friday night on the company's offer to set up a multi-million-dollar "job security" fund to tide workers over the automobile industry's seasonal layoffs.

A high union official said the trend of the talks indicated both sides were "making progress." Another union source predicted the company, which reluctantly has accepted the principle of the union's guaranteed annual wage demand, will "bend even more" to head off a company-wide strike.

"We think that, having come this far, the company will come far enough so we can reach a satisfactory agreement," the union source said.

CIO President Walter Reuther has promised to call his 140,500 Ford workers across the nation out on strike on Monday if no agreement on a new contract is in sight by then.

A four-hour recess was called after Friday's two-hour morning session. Reuther and his lieutenants remained behind closed doors in their hotel suite during the break. There was speculation the union leaders used part of the recess to study progress reports on UAW negotiations with General Motors.

Reuther told newsmen he had cancelled a nationwide television appearance set for Sunday night

because the Ford negotiations had reached the "critical stage."

It was learned Thursday that Ford proposed a $55 million fund that would be set up by the company over three years. The money would be meted out to workers during layoffs.

The subcommittee approved the bill by a vote of 4 to 1 despite warnings by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell that it might work hardship on some industries.

The dissenting vote was cast by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.). He reserved the right to lead a fight for Mr. Eisenhower's smaller proposal on the Senate floor.

The bill will be sent immediately to the full Senate Labor committee, Douglas said.

The new wage level would go into effect Jan. 1, 1956. About 8.7 per cent of the workers blanketed under the fair labor standards act, 2.1 million persons, would be affected.

California Uranium Rush

Dynamite Blasts, Posse Hold Off Claim Jumpers

HORO HOT SPRINGS, Calif., ters, it had that effect. Signs were June 3 UP—Dynamite blasts and a posted and warnings made that anyone approaching the Miracle sheriff's posse settled any claims jumping ambitions today as the claim jumpers would do so at their own expense.

About 1,000 people, only one third of the 3,000 expected to participate in the claims, raced to the mine, which is located in the 3,000 acre area of the 2,000 acre ranch owned by California's largest known uranium mine.

The dynamite charges were fired at 10 a.m. official opening time for the mining operation at the Miracle Mining Co., Miracle Ranch, one of the estimated number of uranium claims known in California's eastern mountains.

Although company officials denied they had explosives, they claimed to have many potential claim jumpers.

Cleveland Bank Robbed By Four; $65,000 Missing

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 3 UP—A four-man "precision" holdup gang raided a branch office of the Standard Trust Co., Friday, and in little more than 40 seconds, escaped with an estimated $65,000. It was a real robbery job," detectives said. "It was executed with precision."

The quartet arrived at the West Side branch office early before it opened at 7:30 a.m. and, They forced entry through doors outside the door, then pulled black stocking masks over their heads and went inside when the bank opened.

One man remained at the wheel of a white automobile as the others took their places in the bank's lobby.

"This is a sticking," one of the men said. "We won't hurt you if you don't move."

The four customers were herded against one wall. Tellers in their cases were covered with automatic pistols.

One robber lunged over a railing into the cases. He stopped in each one, withdrew the cash drawer, then hurried through the window to a second man on the customers' side of the screening. The process was repeated three times.

The third gunman stood guard over the customers as the cash drawers were collected. The first man, told to "hurry up, hurry up," by his accomplice, paused long enough at a fourth window to scoop new $50 and $100 bills into his pockets. Then the trio fled to the waiting car.

the World, there'll be more to shoot for. The Jackpot will be increased to $300.

Check over this explanation of the more difficult clues in puzzle number 13 and get ready for the next round of competition.

CLUES AROSS:

7. RATIONS is preferred. The safety of the free NATIONS was THE WHOLE OBJECT of the war and fundamentally the basis of the fighting against the enemy. That RATIONS was a code is seen, but nevertheless is rather important consideration."

9. DRAPING is particularly apt, since "to drap" is defined as "to hang cloth IN FOLDS". No folds may be involved when a person is DRAWING curtains whether it refers to sketching them or moving them along.

12. "Come from the pen" simply means "to be written by" making PLOT a good answer. A blot does not come from the pen AS A BLOT. A DROP OF INK comes from the pen and makes a BLOT when it spreads out on the paper.

19. Stimulation "of gross" favors LADS. The usefulness of a LASS is not proportionate to her strength, she would mainly do her job anyway. LADS, generally are only particularly useful about the house when the job requires STRENGTH rather than knowledge of domestic science.

20. PANS fits the clue best. The other says you'll be pleased with THE JOB OF WORK, which you will be if PANS out well. If it PANS well, it's the MONEY you'll be pleased with, not necessarily the job. Furthermore, the word "Gold" in the clue fits PANS better than PAYS.

22. DOPE is preferred. It seems about a DUPE being a POTENTIAL future source of income since a person is not a DUPE until after the event, that is until he has been doped. DOPE, however, is a satisfactory answer in every way.

23. A wild HORSE could certainly include a large proportion of characters not very amenable to discipline. But many a wild HORSE would quickly be tamed by a man who really knew his job. Thus HORSE, being so unpredictable a group, fits the clue much more aptly than merely one HORSE.

25. BAR is best. Legally, the person in charge of a car is driver, and it's not good for him to "drift." AT ALL, let alone a lot. There's no harm in the BARMAN having an occasional drink, but it's certainly not good to drink A LOT.

26. You may be offered LESS, and accept it philosophically. Since a LOSS IS FORCED on you, you hardly "accept" it.

27. MEATS is an excellent answer, since all MEATS get eaten cold. Not so with all types of MEALS, however. If the MEAL happened to be a curvy, for example, you would hardly care eat it cold!

CLUES DOWN:

1. A PADDLE is best. A PADDLE either on the big table" means rather to bat FOR THE CHIHUAHUA business or smallness of a SADDLE is more a matter of its relationship to the HORSE, than to the rider.

5. OLD man "Hardly" informs that it is unlikely he will live long. He is still, on some occasion, seen ODD shoes but he certainly would not wear ODD ones if a decent shoe.

6. FUN fits nicely for there is scarcely any association between STAMMER and FUN. "FUN" dancer and "FEAR" dancer are natural, whereas "FUN" dancer is not a common type of popular dancing in the public.

10. HOLE is more apt because it is孔, as in the drums of the DRUMS FROM CHINA. There are many more holes in a HOLE than those offered. The HOLE is more apt.

15. STAY is often used as a verb, as in STAY AS A STUD. The STUD is a student, but he doesn't go to school. The STUD is set in a town by the SEASIDE, or even the SEASIDE is set in a town by the STUD.

16. LA LA LA is more accurate, as it is set before him, to the music. LA LA LA is set before him, to the music. LA LA LA is set before him, to the music. LA LA LA is set before him, to the music.

The cost of each letter is fifteen cents, plus postage for the letter.

rank or pay of the deceased, for windows. A widow would get $10 a month plus 15 per cent of her husband's base pay. Compensation rates for other dependents also would be changed.

2. Identification and its most basic entitlement of a death gratuity now paid to survivors, equal to six months pay with a top of $3,000. Under the proposal, there would be a floor of $800 and a ceiling of $3,000.

3. End a provision under which surviving dependents of some veterans are paid under the civilian federal employees compensation act. Those dependents drawing benefits under the act would not be entitled to them.

About 600,000 military dependents, widows, children and parents of civilian government employees will be affected. They could continue their present benefits or switch to the new plan. Note now on the new plan would have benefits cut.

Morticians Held For Robbery Of Attack Victim

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 3—Last May 26 clothier Samuel Brandt, 62, went to Belmont Park with a hot tip on a horse in the 8th race named Kitty Lightner. He bought seven $100 win tickets.

The horse came in and paid $108 for $2. Brandt's tickets were worth $3,780. But he never lived to collect them. In his jubilant excitement he dropped dead of a heart attack.

Brandt, however, had told his son, Daniel, he intended to bet on Kitty Lightner heavily. The son thought it strange that his father's clothing bore neither tickets nor winnings.

Young Brandt alerted police and track detectives to be on the lookout for anyone trying to collect a bundle of Kitty Lightner.

Parimutuel tickets can be cashed over a considerable period of time, and not just on the day of the race.

Yesterday, two men offered four $100 win tickets on Kitty Lightner at Belmont. They were seized and three other $100 tickets were found on them.

The two are William G. Hanley, 30, a Manhattan funeral director, and William J. Roff, 28, a chauffeur for the funeral parlor.

They had prepared Brandt's group preferably made up of men under 50. The Conservatives will have a majority of 59 seats in the House of Commons, against 17 in the old House, and the prospects for Eden's government to serve a full five-year term are robust. Everybody will be growing older in the interval.

Dalton's decision was applauded by the Daily Mirror, pro-Labor tabloid which has been campaigning for a reshuffle of the party since its election defeat.

However, Herbert Morrison, 67, deputy leader long known as a willing candidate for prime minister, was not expected to greet Dalton's youth movement idea with any warmth.

Nor was Dalton's appeal to Atlee to stay on expected to get the full support of the younger men.

Both men were released in bonds of $1,000 each for arraignment next Monday on grand larceny charges.

Obituaries

ALVIN L. SMITH

A retired postal employee, Alvin L. Smith, 61, formerly of Sikes, La., died at his residence here at 1407 South Second street yesterday morning.

Smith, a native of Sikes, had been with the post office there for 33 years. He was a veteran of the World War I and a member of the First Baptist Church, Monroe.

The Air Force originally had not planned to ask for money to convert the bases until next year. Air Force officials told a Senate Armed Services subcommittee that conversion of the bases will have to be speeded up now to meet the recent decision to accelerate B-52 production by 33 per cent. The decision was made after disclosure that Russia has bombers similar to the B-52.

The Air Force also disclosed it plans to convert 11 bases to handle B-52 bomber wings. The other bases, along with the money requested for conversion, are:

Travis, Calif., $9,086,000; Walker, N.M., $1,308,000; Altus, Okla., $238,000; Castle, Calif., $1,737,000; Ellsworth, S.D., $1,507,000; Fairchild, Wash., $720,000; Limestone, Mo., $4,202,000; and Westover, Mass., $905,000.

He had an appointment to meet his wife in the entry to a tire and screen store. He was on time. Of course she was late. The minutes ticked off, soon masculine patience had been overtaken a quarter of an hour. He was fast getting too desperate to be permitted to associate with normal humans.

Two more minutes elapsed and she had not appeared. Then seeing a machine nearby where for a quarter you can take your own picture, he pulled out the money, put on a facial expression such as Donte would have picked for his wife, and she came right in.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Alvin L. Smith; mother, Mrs. O. P. Smith, Monroe; seven sisters, Mrs. Fred Andrews, Bastrop; Mrs. W. T. Hinton, West Monroe; Mrs. U. A. Kelly, Monroe; Mrs. W. E. Chitty, Gonzales, La.; Mrs. Jim Gates, Mrs. Ira Gates, and Mrs. Ruby Delany, all of Sikes; one brother, Victor Smith, West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held from Peters Funeral Home Chapel at 2:00 p.m. Saturday with Rev. J. T. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Monroe officiating. Interment will be in the New Winnboro cemetery.

Whoever intended the tribute to Confederate Memorial Day meant the flag to stay there. The chain on which the flag was raised was blocked.

School officials said they had no idea who hoisted the banner.

party, which took a beating from Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives in the May 26 general election.

Dalton has been an influential member of the Labor high command Attlee's Shadow Cabinet. This is the policy-making board which would become the real Cabinet in any future Labor government.

Writing Attlee of his decision Dalton said nine of the Shadow Cabinet's members are over 65 and the party should start the new Parliament June 9 with a younger group preferably made up of men under 50. The Conservatives will have a majority of 59 seats in the House of Commons, against 17 in the old House, and the prospects for Eden's government to serve a full five-year term are robust. Fleming also warned against subsidizing cotton export sales, a practice he said would place more expense on the tax payer and put American mills at a handicap with foreign competition.

"It would so upset the world economy," he said, "that the net economic effects for the United States would be detrimental. It would utterly torpedo our policies of cooperative amity with the other free nations."

The industry and the government, he said, has placed predominant emphasis on price and "have sacrificed the opportunity of higher yield and lower cost of production."

"We've got to approach the problem from cost of production an cease to be blinded to everything but price," Fleming told the meeting of Mexican and American cotton leaders.

Federal Controls Blamed For Woes Of Cotton Millers

HARLINGEN, Tex., June 3 UP—You can lose the cotton shirt off your back if the cotton industry doesn't mend its way and the government doesn't change its policies, the world's biggest cotton merchant says.

Lamar Fleming Jr., board chairman of Anderson Clayton and Co., tonight told industry leaders at the American Cotton Congress that government controls were to blame for most of their ills.

Fleming said under acreage allotments, cotton could not be produced at its most efficient rate, and that the "unnaturally high price" that results takes money out of their pockets in two ways: higher taxes and higher costs of cotton goods."

Fleming also warned against subsidizing cotton export sales, a practice he said would place more expense on the tax payer and put American mills at a handicap with foreign competition.

"This is unsatisfactory for 165 million Americans," he said, because the "unnaturally high price" that results takes money out of their pockets in two ways: higher taxes and higher costs of cotton goods."

However, Herbert Morrison, 67, deputy leader long known as a willing candidate for prime minister, was not expected to greet Dalton's youth movement idea with any warmth.

Premature Baby Begins Life On Embalming Table

HOUSTON, June 3—U.P.—Mrs. M. C. Dunree and Dr. Kelley said it was a "miracle" that brought her baby daughter back to life on the embalming table at a funeral home.

The baby, born about 10 weeks premature, was born to Mrs. Dunree Thursday night. The attending doctor, moreover, Robert P. Kelley, said the infant at birth gave every appearance of being dead.

He said he spent an hour giving artificial respiration and resuscitative treatments. Finally, he said, when he could find no sign of a heart beat, he pronounced her dead.

Soon afterward he wasn't sure how long the funeral home was called. Sometime after the baby was brought to the funeral home, Dr. Robert Carr, the funeral director, walked into the room and saw her move.

He listened and discovered her heart was beating. He carried her to North Houston hospital, where she was placed in an incubator. Attendants at the hospital said Friday her condition improved and she has a better than even chance to live.

"I am so glad that my baby is alive," Mrs. Dunree said.

She said she had no hope for her baby's survival because birth when a baby is born so early isn't breathing.

She said the medical staff everything he could do.

"I guess he did. I can only describe the baby as a miracle."

Dr. Kelley said the baby, though the artificial respiration and the stimulants given, was in a remarkable condition.

Burglar, Escaped For Prison Term, Weds Sweetheart

ARMED ROBBER, once a U.P. 429 FA member, was found during a search of his home by June State Police, who sought for anального to his hideout.

Abraham L. Koffman, 26, was arrested on charges of robbery. He was burglarized three times.

He and his wife, 22-year-old Gertrude, were married shortly after their first meeting. Then, their wedding, Sept. 1, 1954, Judge John F. Collier, the same one who sentenced Mr. Koffman, performed the nuptials in a ceremony in his chamber.

The green shirted man took for a week to plan his robbery. In addition, he was also interested in becoming a member of the American Legion, but he never did.

The couple now live in a modest home purchased about two months ago.

Masks Used To Put Out Fire

WATER Masks, which have been making headlines recently, were sold from the Palace Notions Department, due to the great interest shown in them.

According to the manufacturer, the Chief Fire Marshal of New York, caught fire in his home and began spraying water on his clothes ammonia, which caused some of the ammonia to catch fire.

From the time the mask was used, there was no smoke or fire. The mask is then taken off and used to douse the flames.

The mask is made of a material by denim-like fabric which is woven to prevent the water from leaking through the pores.

These masks are available in sizes ranging from 10 to 14. They are made of various fabrics and colors.

Police Seek To Unravel Mystery Of Priest's Death

CHICAGO, June 3—U.P.—Police sought Friday to unravel the mystery of the last 36 hours of life of a Roman Catholic priest from India who came to Chicago and was stabbed to death.

The Rev. John Churamai, known as the "Father Planican" of India, died early Thursday morning after staggering to the door of a Chicago shelter with a seven-inch gash over the head.

Before he died the priest named out that he had been "robbed" but police were unable to trace his movements from about 5 p.m. Tuesday until Thursday morning.

Authorities held an inquest Friday but it failed to shed any new light on the slaying and was continued to June 24 pending further police investigation.

NO LONGER OBLIGATORY

BUENOS AIRES—U.P.—An act suppressing obligatory religious instruction in Argentine schools became the law of the land Thursday. The law, passed by the Argentine Congress on May 23, repealed another act adopted shortly after President Juan D. Peron came to power, which made the teaching of religion in public schools obligatory.

Latest Contestant Miss Betty Loflin

Miss Betty Loflin, 18, has been announced as the latest contestant for the Miss Monroe - West Monroe beauty pageant. The 1954 graduate of Ouachita Parish High School is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Loflin, 118 South McGuire Street, Monroe.

Presently a student at Northeast Louisiana State College, Miss Loflin will tap dance as her special talent. She is sponsored by Howard Brothers.

Announced yesterday by Dr. N. L. Moncrief, chairman of the pageant as another contestant is Miss Terri Lee Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Fields, West Monroe.

Miss Fields recently won first place in the Better Speakers' tournament at New Orleans, and is presently studying voice under the direction of Mrs. Estelle Sanders. She is being sponsored by the Medical Arts Pharmacy.

Dr. N. L. Moncrief, chairman for the pageant, reported that while the number of entries in the contest has been light, he expects a heavy increase in the number of applicants between now and the Sunday deadline.

"We have a lot of pretty girls in Ouachita parish," Dr. Moncrief said, "and I would sure like to see more of them enter the contest."

The pageant, which is an official Miss American contest, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the West Monroe High School. The winner of the local contest will represent the Twin Cities in the State Pageant at Lake Providence in July, with the winner of that pageant representing Louisiana in the national contest at Atlantic City.

In addition to the beauty pageant, the chairman said, entertainment at the local show will include singers, a band, a hill billy band, and will feature Miss Pat Emmanuel, Miss Northeast State College. Frank Eason is building a runway out into the audience giving the local show the same effect of the national contest, he said.

The list of judges, he said, will include a group of prominent out-of-town personalities.

Dr. Moncrief explained that prizes in the local contest will include a full four-year scholarship worth $400, for the winner, while prizes worth $200 to $300 will be awarded to the second and third place runners up. Trophies, donated by the Rendezvous, will also be awarded to the first, second and third place girls.

To be eligible for the pageant a girl must be between the ages of 18 and 27, never been married, a high school graduate, and a resident of Ouachita parish or a student at Northeast Louisiana State College. Applications may be obtained from Dr. Moncrief or any member of the Monroe - West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The chairman urged all interested girls to enter the contest as soon as possible, in order to be sure of getting their applications in before the deadline.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Kidnaper Of Girl Identified; Hunt Shifts To Texas

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., June 3 (UPI)—Garvin County Attorney Raymond Burger said Friday he will seek the death penalty for Mack Weaver, scar-faced ex-convinced with kidnapping and three raping a 13-year-old girl.

"This is a capital offense. We're going to send this man to the chair," Burger said angrily.

Officers of Oklahoma and Texas were alerted to watch for the 42-year-old Sulphur, Okla., suspect who was believed heading for Wichita Falls, Tex. Burger said he was calling on the FBI to aid in the hunt.

Sheriff's officers here believed he would be captured soon because of tell-tale long scars on both of his cheeks and the easy identity of his 1940 Oldsmobile sedan.

Blue-eyed Emilia Long told officers Friday how he picked her up at her home Wednesday night on the pretext of hiring a baby-sitter.

She said he criminally assaulted her three times, slashed her hands with a knife, burned her thighs with a cigarette and repeatedly told her, "If you ever tell on me, I'll kill you."

The girl said during her 11-hour ordeal that Weaver told her he had killed three women previously and had just recently been released from prison.

Sheriff Claude Swinney said he considered the girl "very lucky to be alive."

Burger said Weaver took the child to his mother's home in Sulphur and left her there while he had his car repaired. The mother said her son told her the girl was 19 and they were going to be married.

Emilia said Weaver told her if she disclosed her true identity to his mother he would kill her.

The girl said Weaver let her out of his car near Duncan, Okla., early Thursday and she hitch-hiked three rides to her brother's home in Duncan where she telephoned officers.

The child said Weaver appeared to have been drinking when he picked her up but that he sobered up later in the night.

The girl is the daughter of F. W. Long and Mrs. Edith Pickel. The parents are divorced.

Drug Situation Said Hopeless In New York City

WASHINGTON, June 3 (UPI)—Harry J. Anslinger, U. S. narcotics commissioner, told Senate investigators today a concentration of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and FBI wouldn't stop heroin smuggling into New York City.

"Seizing ships is a very difficult matter," Anslinger said. "Sentences are made no basis of information developed here and abroad."

With only four agents in Europe, the commissioner said, the Narcotics Bureau is able to stop at the source about 10 per cent of the illicit drugs destined for the United States.

"These four men," he said, "are worth 100 men here."

Anslinger testified for a second day before a Senate judiciary subcommittee investigating the narcotics traffic and the possibility of strengthening laws to fight it.

Chairman Daniel D. Tamm asked in tones of astonishment:

"Your seven-four agents cover Europe?"

"That's all we can afford," Anslinger replied.

"Is it as much as this country can afford?" the senator inquired.

"No sir," Anslinger answered.

DOROTHY DIXSneaky Drinker*Home Life Probable Source Of Trouble

DEAR MISS DIX: My problem is that of many married women — drink. I have been married sixteen years and have two teen-age children. We own our home, have a car and many of the comforts of life. I have worked nearly all my married life to help gain these things; now when we have smooth sailing and I could stay home, my husband has taken to drink.

He is what I would call a sneaky drinker. He goes out in the evening and settles down in a bar far from home. He returns when everyone is in bed so our own neighbors don't know of his condition. He is out four nights a week; the other nights he's too stupid from the after-effects to talk. It's getting too much for me and I would have left by now except that his mother keeps begging me to stay. She's sure he'll straighten out. Don't advise A.A. because he says he's not a drunkard!

B. E.

ANSWER: Perhaps your husband is right in his contention that he's not a drunkard, or an alcoholic. There's a fine line of distinction that separates alcoholics from so-called social drinkers.

The fault may lie in his own home. Your husband may have felt an incompleteness in his home life during the 16 years you worked, and turned to alcohol as a panacea. You may yet be able to wean him back into the home.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

If he's out four nights a week, don't give him that much time to himself. Have company in, get yourselves invited out. He doesn't like others to see him under the influence of drink; therefore, when in company he'll behave. He may have had too much loneliness—as witness the number of nights he stays out.

Are you an interested companion on the other three nights? Or have you settled into your own groove of work, housework and children? With no time left over for your husband, he's gone in search of his own amusements.

It certainly wouldn't be right to cast him adrift without making some attempt to straighten him out. I agree with your mother-in-law. The man is a weak character; therefore you must have the strength to force his return to normal behavior. If, in working all these years, you had no goal except the winning of certain luxuries, I think you were wrong. You may have gained comforts, but you lost the security of your home.

It seems to me you made the initial mistake; do your best to atone for it. It will take effort, patience and prayer. The results will be worthwhile.

DEAR MISS DIX: While my son was overseas his girl friend broke their engagement. She returned the ring to me, but has been very slow about returning gifts. Her mother has promised on several occasions that the gifts would be returned, but they were not. Should I repay our friends if she doesn't send them back?

Mrs. G.

ANSWER: You are under no obligation to give back anything. It is the responsibility of the bride-to-be to do so. If she's slow about returning the gifts, hurry her by letter and telephone until she does.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have known Kenny for about six years and, until recently, we were only friends. I am married and have a small son, but I am divorcing my husband. Lately Kenny has been coming over to see me but he comes when he feels like it. If he calls and makes a date, he rarely keeps it. He says he loves me, but he doesn't keep his promises.

Kay

ANSWER: You say you "were married" and "are getting" a divorce. You know your marital status remains unchanged until your divorce decree is finally awarded. Until then, you are cheapening yourself in the eyes of any man by acting like a single girl. Kenny has no intention of marriage; he wants fun, not responsibility.

Why Grow Old?

Tall Girls Stand Erect
And Be Proud Of Height

I have had a lot of interesting letters recently as a result of columns I wrote about tall girls. One before me says:

"It makes my blood boil to read of a girl 6 feet tall who is touchy about her height. Ruining her life, indeed!"

"Limelight is the natural heritage of us tall girls. Unlike our shorter sisters we do not have to bleach our hair, wear wired clothing or develop an unusual personality in order to attract attention. All we have to do is to stand erect, groom ourselves immaculately and just be ourselves. Admiration literally flows our way."

"Being tall in this day and age certainly holds no inconveniences. Seven foot beds now are available and there are at least four Tall Girl Clothing Shops in the city in which I live. The average height is increasing too. Tall men are looking for tall mates. Why should a girl complain?"

"I, for one, will show my gratitude for my 6 feet plus by holding my head high and being proud of every inch."

It is true that many girls and women who are quite a bit above average in height are self-conscious about it. It is also true that this is very foolish, not only because it is a silly way to measure happiness in life but also because height actually can be an asset rather than a handicap.

Posture

I do wish to impress upon tall women, and especially on tall teenagers, how tremendously important good posture is to you.

Of course it is important to everyone but especially to the person who is taller than usual. Nothing will call attention to your height more than slumping forward. Nothing makes a man or woman more fascinating looking than gallant posture and carriage. When extra height is a part of the picture it can be really stunning!

I mention teenagers particularly because they are growing so rapidly that they have a tendency to become round shouldered anyway. Also, the teen-ager is more apt to have the wrong idea about extra height — to be self-conscious about it.

Then, too, you can improve your posture much more easily and successfully during the teens than later on.

So all you tall girls — carry yourself like a queen or a princess. If you would like to have my leaflet "Round Shoulder — Flat Bust" reverse it send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. Cain Seeks Local Control Of Public Education

SUMMIT, Miss., June 3 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Cain says if the state would leave the operation of schools up to the communities, the Supreme Court could not possibly interfere.

Mrs. Cain, making her second bid for the governor's office, opened her campaign yesterday.

The editor of The Summit Sun said she operates schools at the local level with the help of the State Department of Education.

Mrs. Cain said her program is designed to make government the "servant and not the master" of the people. Her aim is to make Mississippi a "Mecca for people who are weary of too much government."

She said the Legislature should be reapportioned on a fair and equitable basis. She also would reduce the number of departments and boards of the state government from 106 to 30, she said.

Her platform also calls for the "immediate repeal" of the 24.5 million in new taxes voted by the recent special session of the Legislature to finance the Negro-White school equalization program.

She said she also would seek the repeal of the black market tax and the 5 per cent sales tax on liquor.

"I am sick and tired of being the laughing stock of the nation through taxation of a product the state declares illegal . . . and I further pledge to enforce the liquor laws," she said.

Mrs. Cain, known nation-wide because of her refusal to pay self-employed social security taxes, said the state should try to govern its own welfare program and make a "clean break" with the federal government.

She said she refused to make any specific promises on the welfare benefits, although she is aware each of her opponents is promising an "increase of $30 a month to $50 and even $55 a month."

But, she said, she realizes that needy persons cannot live on $30 a month.

Her program also includes a uniform $3 automobile license, aid for municipalities and premarital examinations for marriage licenses.

Police Hunt Negro Reportedly Attacked

Monroe city detectives were still looking for an unidentified man who was reported by a Negro woman to have been attacked.

The Negro woman called police headquarters Thursday morning according to Chief of Detectives Hugh Tolbert, and reported that a Negro man had been robbed by four Negro youths.

An investigation by the officers issued at the Illinois Central railroad yards where the woman told the police the man had been "jumped."

Detectives recovered a package of cigarettes and a knife from the location where the woman told officers the man had been knocked down.

Police Jury For Detention Home

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury has gone on record in support of a proposed detention home to be constructed in the parish if voters approve a one-third mill bond issue which will be voted on June 14.

In a letter to L. B. Pettit, chairman of the Ouachita Parish Detention Home Citizens' Committee, A. E. Montgomery, president of the Police Jury, said in part: "We believe the time has come to provide a detention facility for children who are in trouble pending a hearing before the court rather than continue placing them in jail. The taxpayers of this parish will be called upon on June 14 to make the decision. It is hoped that if this small tax for only five years voters approve a one-third mill will be voted so that this facility can be provided."

In Sweden 61 infants out of 1,000 died in their first year in the early 20s compared to less than 19 today.

Watkins Wins District Jaycee Junior Golf Tourney

Sub Par Round Wins For West Monroe Youth

Ed Watkins, West Monroe High School's Louisiana state prep golf champion, overcame a four-stroke deficit with a sub par round of 68 yesterday to win the district Junior Chamber of Commerce junior gold tournament conducted at Bayou DeShard County Club.

Watkins, who shot a first round 75 Thursday to trail Jackie Rivers, Monroe, by four strokes, beat men's par 70 for the course yesterday as he climbed from fifth place at the end of the first 18 of the 36-hole event to capture the championship.

Rivers, the first day leader with a 71, shot a 74 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 145, two strokes behind Watkins and good for second place.

Roy Nash and Don Sims, low qualifiers for the meet with 71s, finished with identical scores of 147 to tie for the third and fourth places that entitle them, with Watkins, and Rivers, to compete in the state Jaycee junior tournament at Bossier City.

Nash and Sims of Monroe and Bastrop respectively, had a side issue to settle that was carried over into extra play yesterday. Their first round Thursday was supposed to be a playoff for the tournament medal. They posted identical 73s for the playoffs. So, their final round yesterday was due to decide the issue. Again they were tied as both posted 74s for their final round. They then went into sudden death play, going three extra holes before Nash won out, actually 1 up in 39 holes.

Neal Eldridge was the winner in the second flight with "Sonny" Harper as his runner-up.

Galveston Ball Club Giving Up Franchise

GALVESTON, Tex., June 3 (UPI)—The Galveston club in the Class B Big State Baseball League is folding as of tomorrow night, club President Louis Menotti announced today. He said he would turn the club franchise back to the league and dispose of the players' contracts.

Menotti said, "We just didn't get the backing from people who promised to help, and when we tried to raise $3,000 to meet the payroll on the 15th of last month, we got only $850."

Unofficial estimates were that Menotti, who owns a supermarket here, was losing about $6,000 a month on the club. The club president said the team needed a daily attendance of 700 to break even and attendance has averaged below 400.

The club ranked fourth in the league through last night with a 25-won, 25-lost record.

Cen. La. Scouts Are Signing For Summer Camping

TROUT, June 4 (Special)—Ronald Ely of Alexandria, La. Scout district field executive, announced today that Boy Scouts of the Central Louisiana area already are signing up for the summer camping season at Attakapas Scout camp on Seacres Lake near Trout. Approximately 30 have already signed, he said.

To date, two sessions have been set up for the camp from June 19 to June 25 and from June 26 to July 2. Some scouts also have asked for a third session, from July 3 to July 9. Mr. Ely said that if a minimum of 15 hours register, the third week will be scheduled. There still are a few vacancies left for the first week's session. The second week is filled to capacity and unless sufficient numbers register for the third week, those already signed for that period will be allocated to the first week's session.

The staff for the camp this summer again will be headed by Joe Campbell, principal of Ruston Elementary School in Avoyelles, who will serve as camp director. He and his staff will move into Attakapas camp Monday June 6 to begin a two-weeks preparatory course, map the camp, schedule and make other plans for the term at opening of the summer camping session on June 19. The staff will consist of some 20 volunteer scouts and senior scouts. Scouting from the Lakeview district will be Paul Stephenon, Fred M. Neel, Jr., and Gary Stevens. All of them are the sons of the local Diamond Partnership of Uranium on the parish staff.

Hedge-Hop To Gettysburg

Ike Is First President To Fly In Light Aircraft

WASHINGTON, June 3.—UP—President Eisenhower set another presidential "first" Friday when he flew to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm in "a lovely little plane" so small he had to stoop to get under the wing.

It was the first time a President had flown in an aircraft smaller than a four-engine plane. Mr. Eisenhower, who also was the first chief executive to televise his news conference, normally flies only in the huge four-engined Super Constellation, the Columbine.

But the President took to the air Friday in a twin-engined Aero Commander seating only four persons. Taking off from Washington, the plane made the 13-mile flight to Gettysburg in 32 minutes.

At Gettysburg, the plane landed on a 2,000-foot grassy strip at a small airport. The President then drove six miles to his farm over dusty back roads by automobile, his usual mode of travel to the farm. By auto the trip takes about two hours.

Mr. Eisenhower went to the farm to receive a gift of cattle from the Aberdeen Angus Breeders Association.

The plane was piloted by Lt. Col. William Draper, who flies the Columbine. Others in the plane besides the President were Maj. John W. Mitchell, co-pilot, and James Rowley, chief of the White House Secret Service detail.

Other Secret Service agents went in another small plane, as did reporters and photographers who accompany the President just about everywhere.

Completely pleased with his new plane, the President remarked as he landed at Gettysburg:

"It's a lovely little plane and this is the first time I've been in one."

Scrubbed from recent days at the farm and on the golf course, the President stepped back and looked reflectively at the freshly-painted blue and white ship. It isn't very big alongside that super jumbo, he remarked.

The plane, one of several the Air Force is buying, was built by the Aero Commander Manufacturing Co., Bethesda, Md. Initially they cost about to business executives at a base price of about $70,000.

Hollywood Actor Reported Father Of Son In Italy

SYLVIA MONTE, Calif., June 3.—A Hollywood actor has suffered an all-nighter in Italy, his estranged wife informed in St. Louis, Calif., today.

As a result of his testimony, Edie Adams, Mrs. Monti, has a bench warrant on him for contempt of court on child support payments to his former wife, actress, Valerie Bertinelli.

Monti is found in contempt of court and sentenced to one year in jail and probation for refusing to pay child support.

The 36-year-old actor, who has been estranged from his wife since 1952, was subpoenaed to appear in court in Los Angeles to answer charges of contempt of court.

He was not able to attend the trial because he was in Italy attending the premiere of a movie he directed and produced. He had to leave the country because of a court order.

Charges Against McClain Might Be Filed This Week

No charges have been filed by Richland Parish District Attorney Harry Anders against Mrs. Helen McClain, 24, who was incarcerated by the Ouachita Parish Sheriff Department in connection with the death of George Graham early Thursday.

"There is a possibility that the investigation may be complete by Saturday afternoon and charges filed," Sheriff Earl Bill of Richland Parish stated Friday afternoon. District attorney Anders could not be reached for comment.

Mrs. McClain, resident of Nuland Road off Highway 15, was transferred from the Ouachita Parish jail to the Richland jail Friday morning.

The woman told sheriff deputies that she shot Graham as they rode in a pickup truck because he was making "advances" toward her. Mrs. McClain admitted shooting the man near an open field about one mile east of Girard, La., early Thursday morning.

Graham died at the Charity Hospital at 10:45 where his wife was beside the bed of their small son who was ill.

Funeral services for Graham will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Lone Cedar Baptist Church near Winniboro with Rev. Bobby Brown officiating. Interment will follow in the church cemetery.
